NAZI REVOLT - IN CHILE IS SHORT LIVED

More Than Sixty Killed as Rebels Attack Presidential Palace

SANTIAGO IS PLACED
UNDER MARTIAL LAW

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 6 (P).—Santiago was virtually under martial law tonight as the Rightist Government of President Arturo Alessandri sought extraordinary powers after an abortive Nazi uprising on Monday in which at least sixty-one persons were killed.

A military announcement said the situation was well in hand. Sixty persons were under arrest in connection with the unsuccessful putsch, including General Carlos Ibanez, former dictator and a candidate in the Chilean presidential election to be held next month.

HELD AS LEADER
He was held as leader of the uprising of Chilean National Socialists, who have adopted much of the German National Socialist programme, although having no formal affiliation with German Nazis.

The revolt, checked by heavy weapons of the Federal police after three and one-half hours' fighting around the presidential palace, was believed to have been supported only by extremists among Ibanez's adherents.

THREE SCORE KILLED
At least sixty-one bodies were taken to the morgue after the rebels were driven from the National University and the ten-story Workers' Insurance Building, both overlooking the palace. It was feared fatalities might reach at least eighty.

Although the city was back to normal, President Alessandri asked Congress to suspend for six months a constitutional article guaranteeing freedom of speech, public assembly and the press. A Nazi and an extreme Leftist publication already have been closed by authorities.

SPANISH COUNT FATALLY HURT

Former Heir to Throne of Spain Dies After Car
Smash in Florida

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 6 (P).—The Count of Covadonga, once heir to the crown of Spain, died today of hemorrhagic shock after a car crash that causes profuse bleeding after an automobile accident.

His companion in the car, Miss Mildred Gaydon, a night club entertainer and cigarette girl, was charged with manslaughter as a result of the nocturnal accident. She was released on her own recognizance.

STEERING GEAR FAILS
The girl said the steering gear of her old sedan failed as she swerved to avoid a truck when she and the Count were trapped inside for fifteen minutes after striking the pole on the left side of the road. She suffered bruises.

The Count, son of former Queen Victoria Eugenia, was cut about the head and face, his leg broken and his skull possibly fractured, but he might have recovered except for the disease.

NOTICES ROYAL PARENTS
His secretary, Jack Fleming, called the word to the father, former King Alfonso XIII, in Rome, and to his estranged queen in England. Word was awaited from Alfonso as to whether his son's body should be sent to Europe or buried here.

Covadonga, who was thirty-one, had made his home at a bayfront hotel here for the past year, since his divorce in Havana from Maria Rocafort, second of the Cuban commoners he married. The first, also divorced, was Edmunda Samperio-Cecilio y Robato, for whom he renounced his title of Prince King Alfonso-opposed the marriage, but he and his son later became reconciled.

RENO, Nev., Sept. 6 (P).—Senator Pat McCarran, who opposed some of President Roosevelt's measures, including the Supreme Court and governmental reorganization measures, drew steadily away from two "100 Per Cent New Deal" opponents tonight as returns for nomination on the Nevada Democratic ticket rolled in. Senator McCarran held better than a three-to-one lead over Albert Hilliard, Reno attorney, his closest adversary.

HITLER NOT SAYING MUCH

Silent on Czechoslovakia—
Makes Little Reference to Foreign Affairs

NUREMBERG, Germany, Sept. 6 (P).—Chancellor Hitler, in a fifty-minute address tonight, said the cultural realm was the only left in which foreign opponents of the Nazi regime hoped successfully to attack.

The address was preceded by his report read at the opening of the tenth annual party rally in which he kept silent on Czechoslovakia and made few references to foreign affairs except to declare Germany now is so strong she would prove immune to any war-time blockade.

RIDICULE RESERVE
He ridiculed foreign nations for being so reserved about taking pious German Jews into their fold.

"Why, if they are such pioneers of art, aren't the Jews welcomed elsewhere?" he asked amid loud laughter among his followers.

"Criticism from the Jewish Marxist international democratic circles is not only indecisive but immaterial," he added of the warfare in the cultural realm.

"We National Socialists are concerned about what our own people think of our art."

Before the Fuehrer spoke, Alfred Rosenberg, head of the Nazi party's foreign political division, took sharp issue with Pope Pius' recent observations on the race question, but without mentioning him by name.

"Racial science was not discovered by preaching priests," he said. "They

TEN DEAD AFTER AIRPLANE CRASH

Royal Air Force Machine Strikes
House in London Suburb
Then Explodes

LONDON, Sept. 6 (P).—A Royal Air Force biplane crashing in a densely-populated London suburb, on Sunday spread a trail of death, fire and wreckage in one of the most extraordinary air tragedies in the history of British aviation.

Ten persons, including the pilot, who was the only occupant of the plane, were killed and nineteen others injured, thirteen of them gravely.

The plane crashed into a house, flying to the street and killed a boy playing in the road when the pilot, Sergeant S. D. Morris, lost altitude over the suburb of Edmonton. Then he turned to the roof of another house and burst into flames.

One woman died in a blaze, started by the airplane, which badly damaged three houses.

While residents were attempting to free the trapped pilot, the plane exploded. The blast killed another boy and injured many of a crowd of witnesses that quickly gathered around the wreck. Six died later in a hospital.

City Will Not Seek Continuation of Car Service in District

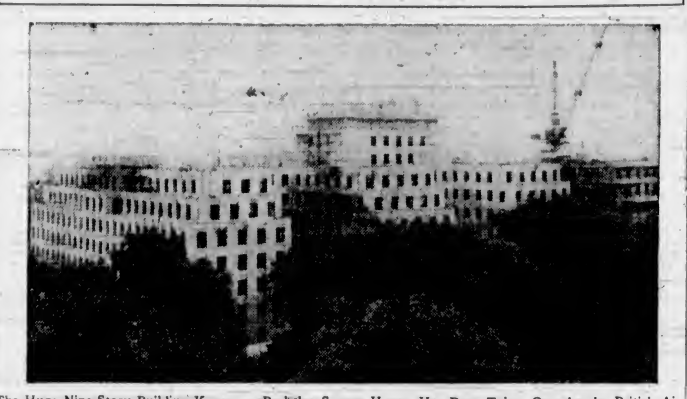

Motion to Determine Attitude of B.C. Electric
After Expiration of Franchise in December Defeated by City Council

A motion of Alderman R. A. C. Dewar that the franchise committee take up the matter of asking the B.C. Electric Railway Company, Ltd., to reconsider its decision to discontinue street car service when the franchise expires on December 5 was decisively defeated at a City Council meeting last night.

Aldermen Dewar and John A. Worthington, the seconder, were the only two who voted in favor of the motion. An amendment of Alderman W. H. Davies that the matter be referred to R. W. Beck, franchise adviser to the council, was not seconded.

European Situation Considered Improved, Despite Large-Scale Autumn Manoeuvres on Land and Sea—British Trade Union Congress Votes
To Continue Support on Rearmament

LONDON, Sept. 6 (P).—New Czech concessions tonight raised European hopes of settling the Czechoslovak-German dispute without war, as Chancellor Hitler proclaimed the Reich immune against any war-time blockade.

"While the German Fuehrer spoke, Great Britain's home fleet was steaming toward the North Sea for Autumn manoeuvres and a-Banch reserves poured into the powerful fortifications facing Germany's western frontier."

BORDER STRONGLY ARMED
France poured more men and material into the frontier area along the Maginot line. It was estimated that 300,000 reservists had been called to the French tri-color to help the standing army "watch for trouble from over there," as Frenchmen along the border expressed it.

Whether Prague's new proposals for solving the minority dispute would be acceptable to the Sudeten Germans—or Hitler—as a basis for further negotiation remained uncertain.

Hitler was reported in well-informed quarters to have insisted in last week's talks with Henlein that a plan acceptable for negotiation must be produced before Monday, when Hitler is expected to deal with the issue at Nuremberg.

The British Admiralty made a demand for American dollars and gold in London continued brisk today. Money centres were nervous over the mobilization of military and naval power in Europe, while the House of Commons turned the financial spotlight on continental developments.

"The British pound got better support after its sharp crack yesterday, a drop of about 2 cents in the pound, lowering the British exchange rate to $482.14, mainly because of the break over Labor Day, bankers said.

Gold buyers in London had to pay about 19 cents an ounce more than on Saturday in terms of sterling, one of the widest jumps in the open-market gold price in recent years.

HELPS IN HUNT FOR ABDUCTORS

Kidnapped Wife of Rancher
Returns Home Unharméd
—No Ransom Paid

MARYSVILLE, Cal., Sept. 6 (P).—Mrs. William R. Meeks led a squad of officers over rough terrain today and pointed out the spot where, she declared, kidnappers took her to a hideout in a clump of poison oak after abducting her from her ranch home last Thursday night.

The fifty-five-year-old woman, who on Sunday fled from the kidnappers without $15,000 ransom being paid, talked energetically and insisted she was strong enough to accompany the officers' scout in their search for clues.

Several blue and green threads from the feel of the car as it passed over gravel and rocky roads, from rusty cans and a barbed wire fence.

Mrs. Meeks was taken from the home of her well-to-do rancher husband last Thursday night by two men shortly after they had seen guests off.

Her captive for fifty-six hours staggered across a road after her captors deserted their hideout in a hilly poison-oak covered territory.

Starved and threatened with torture during her captivity, Mrs. Meeks told how one captor had said "the boss" had ordered her slain.

ELMER CROWE DIES
VANCOUVER, Sept. 6 (P).—Elmer Richard Crowe, thirty-nine, son of the late Senator S. J. Crowe, died in hospital here yesterday. He was a member of the bookkeeping firm of Crowe & Wilson, Ltd. and director of the Y.M.C.A. Surviving are his widow and two children.

FINAL SCHEME OF SETTLEMENT PROPOSED BY CZECHOSLOVAKIA

Offers Whole or Partial Satisfaction to Seven of Eight Demands for Self-Rule Made on Behalf
Of Sudeten Germans—Liberal Proposal
Made for Eventual Division

Disputants Settle Down to Unproclaimed Armistice

PARIS, Sept. 6 (P).—Havas (French news agency), in a dispatch from its Praha correspondent tonight, reported that the Czechoslovak Government's "final" plan for settlement of the Sudeten German minority demands features a proposal for eventual division of Czechoslovakia into districts, with the minorities enjoying autonomy in all matters except those directly related to national unity and defence.

Drafted in the form of nine proposals, according to Havas, it offers satisfaction in part or whole to seven of Konrad Henlein's eight demands for Sudeten-German self-rule.

NOT MENTIONED
The pro-Nazi minority leader's eighth demand—for full liberty-to profess German "Weltanschauung" (political philosophy)—was not mentioned in the resume given by the correspondent.

The proposal for eventual division of the country into districts is outstanding among the eleven offers—which are by far the most liberal offered to date, Havas said.

Although Henlein's eight points do not say so, the Sudeten-German party leaders are also known to want Czechoslovakia to renounce its mutual aid ties to France and the Soviet Union. The latest Government plan, the Havas correspondent said, makes it clear that Praha insists on retaining the right to decide all questions of foreign policy and territorial defence.

NINE PROPOSALS
The proposals, as reported by the Havas correspondent,

1. The various nationalities are to be given public employment in proportion to their population. Public works projects are likewise to be determined in those chapters of the budget concerning the nationalities.

2. The various nationalities areas will be served by public transportation.

NOTED PRELATE DIES SUDDENLY

Cardinal Hayes Passes Away
In Sleep at New York
Summer Camp

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (P).—The body of Patrick Cardinal Hayes lay in state tonight before the high altar of St. Patrick's Cathedral, where it will remain until the funeral on Friday, after being viewed by more than 10,000 persons at the Cardinalate during the day.

It was moved from the residence in mid-afternoon, and borne the short block from Madison Avenue to Fifth through thousands of persons surrounding the church in mid-town Manhattan.

The cathedral chimes sounded as the short but impressive procession, including foreign-born Governor Alfred E. Smith, relatives, Sisters of Charity, hospital workers, priests and others moved to the cathedral.

PASSES AWAY IN SLEEP
The prelate's body was brought here from his summer camp at St. Joseph, N.Y., where he died in his sleep early on Sunday. His death was followed by his secretary, Monsignor John J. Casey, who had gone to awaken him.

The cardinal, who would have been seventy-one years old on November 20, had not complained of illness before he retired. He had been in apparent good health recently, although he had not recovered completely from a breakdown suffered at the Eucharistic Congress in Dublin in 1932.

SHOOT TWICE AT EGYPTIAN RULER

Two Persons Wounded When Syrian
Opens Fire at Alexandria
Athletic Club

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Sept. 6 (P).—Two persons were wounded on Sunday by a pistol shot apparently aimed at young King Farouk of Egypt.

A bystander forced down the arm of a man, said to be a Syrian, who suddenly drew a pistol and fired as the King was leaving the swimming pool of an athletic club.

Farouk, apparently unperturbed by the incident, returned to his palace. He had completed presenting prizes to Egyptian swimming champions.

Both the injured spectators suffered leg wounds. Police arrested the assailant and submitted him to questioning.

AIR LINERS Shot Down Over China

SHANGHAI, Sept. 7 (P).—A Japanese army communiqué today said a second Eurasia Line passenger airplane was shot down on Tuesday afternoon, thirty miles southwest of Hankow by Japanese army aviators.

Three Japanese pursuit planes machine-gunned and forced down a transport of the German-Chinese operated Eurasia Line Monday at Luichow, Kwangsi Province. None of its nine occupants was injured, but there were ten bullet holes in the fuselage of the plane.

CHICAGO CORPS TO VISIT CITY

Crack American Drum and Bugle Unit Will Perform Here Next Monday

Local citizens will be afforded the opportunity of witnessing the crack Commonwealth Edison Post No. 118 drum and bugle corps of the American Legion from Chicago in action when it visits Victoria next Monday afternoon for a few hours. The visit of the American corps is being arranged by the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., and the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

It is expected the visitors will be greeted by Government and civic officials, and during their stay here will place a wreath on the Cenotaph, in addition to providing a demonstration of manoeuvres which are of a military character. One of the downtown streets will be roped off for the drills.

The corps, which is en route to the national convention of the American Legion at Los Angeles, will be the only post to touch Canada.

INTERNATIONAL GOOD WILL. Parading with the Americans will be the color guard of the local Canadian Legion with the British flag on the right.

Organized some thirteen years ago, the corps boasts many national champion buglers, snare drummers and drum majors, and was formed from the ex-servicemen in the Commonwealth Edison Post. The entire corps comprises seventy-eight members, with a playing unit of forty-eight.

The drum and bugle unit won many honors in Chicago and headed the state championship four times, winning it again on August 21 at Rockford, Ill., at the state convention of the American Legion. In 1936 the group, composed with 300 of the finest drum and bugle corps in the United States and won the national trophy.

C. J. Hughes, publicity director, in a letter to the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, said the corps will arrive on the 12:30 o'clock boat from Seattle on Monday.

SAYS VICTORIA KNOWN IN EAST

Representative of Local Tourist Bureau in Spokane Says City Is Popular

"Victoria is well known to tourists from the East, including such cities as New York and Chicago, and many tourists come from that section of the United States with the specific intention of visiting this city," Oliver Hollingsworth, representative and contact man of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau in Spokane, said on his return to the city yesterday.

He has just concluded his season's work in the Washington city, which he termed the key point for most of the national places through which Alberta visitors pass on their way to the Coast.

Mr. Hollingsworth, who left Victoria on June 28 last, stated there was a good increase in the number of people coming to Victoria, which he attributed to the fine advertising campaign of the local bureau under the direction of George I. Warren, commissioner. "Many of the travel directors told me that during the course of their contact tours they had found the city of Victoria to be already sold to many tourists," the local representative said.

Although Labor Day usually marks the end of the tourist season, due to the reopening of schools, etc., Mr. Hollingsworth felt, nevertheless, that the post-season trade to Vancouver Island showed prospects of continuing good.

Quebec Padlock Law Attacked in Courts As Illegal Measure

Plaintiff in Action Filed in Superior Court Describes Himself a Communist—Declares Act Ultra Vires of Province—Wants Belongings

MONTREAL, Sept. 6.—Emery Samuel, who described himself as a member of the Communist party, launched an action in Superior Court here today challenging constitutionality of Quebec's Padlock Act designed to curb Communist propaganda.

The anti-Communist legislation, passed by Legislature in 1937, empowers police to seize Communist literature and propaganda and to padlock premises used for dissemination of Communist propaganda for a year.

In his action, directed against Colonel P. A. Pluie, director of Provincial Police, Samuel declares that act ultra vires the Legislature and encroaching upon rights reserved to the Dominion Government. Admitting he used his home for propagation of Communist doctrines, Samuel maintains Provincial Police, on orders of Colonel Pluie, forced their way into his house without warrants on seven occasions between June 3 and August 2 and took away books and documents.

FEDERAL POWERS

Samuel demands return of his belongings and protests against violations of his rights as a private citizen. Apart from being "unconstitutional, illegal, irregular and ultra vires of the Provincial Legislature," Samuel declared in his complaint, "it encroaches upon the powers of the Federal Parliament, constituting legislation on matters dealt with under the British North America Act."

"It is, in fact, legislation which in effect deals with criminal law and procedure, which are matters within the exclusive jurisdiction of the Parliament of Canada."

The act fails to define Communism, he points out, and authorizes police to enter private premises, seize and destroy private property without a warrant and trial. Persons affected have no opportunity of defending themselves—"the whole contrary to the most elementary rules of British law and justice."

Deanery Added to Cathedral Precincts

The new Deanery, recently completed, is an important addition to the buildings contained within Christ Church Cathedral enclosure. Designed by Percy James, architect, and of half-timbered Tudor style, with stucco finish, it is constructed on comfortable and commodious lines, with drawing-room, dining-room, study, kitchen and maid's sitting-room on the ground floor. The upstairs has six bedrooms, and there are two bathrooms, cement basement and central heating. Although the garden is as yet only "on paper," plans are being made to have the grounds beautified by degrees now that the debris of building operations has been cleared away. Very Rev. Spencer H. Elliott, the new Dean of Columbia (shown on the steps), moved into residence, with his family, on July 1. The east end of the cathedral can be seen just above the left gable of the Deanery.

Constable Robbed Of His Weapons

VANCOUVER, Sept. 6.—Safe-crackers were successful in several attempts on downtown business premises over the week-end, but burglars escaped with valuable loot from the homes of Walter Leek, Exhibition Association president, and Constable C. W. Macdonald, of the city police force.

Leek reported a shotgun valued at $200 and a quantity of jewelry stolen from his home, while Macdonald said a revolver, an automatic pistol and jewelry were missing from his home.

MAINLAND MEN FOUND GUILTY

Gilmore, Marsh, Ediss and Bazzasso Bound Over To Keep Peace

Convicted in the city police court yesterday morning on a charge of unlawfully assaulting Constable Samuel McKenzie on Monday night while engaged in his duty—Edward McCaffrey Gilmore, Robert Marsh, Ediss and Mirco Bazzasso, all of Vancouver, were bound over in their own recognizances in the sum of $200 each to keep the peace for three months.

In pronouncing sentence upon the accused, Magistrate Henry C. Hall commented:

"I have no doubt that you are guilty. It is a very serious thing indeed to flout law and order as you did. It is disgraceful that you took part in knocking a policeman down twice."

Stuart Henderson, defence counsel, entered a plea of not guilty at the outset of the trial.

TELLS OF ASSAULT

Constable McKenzie told the court that he was off duty on Monday night, but had been engaged in uniform by the operator of a public dance in a View Street hall. He saw two men arguing with the cashier. Then Gilmore started up the stairs and aimed a punch at the constable when he attempted to stop him. He struggled with Gilmore, who was joined by Marsh, Ediss and Bazzasso. When thrown twice to the floor, his wrist watch was smashed and he sustained a large bruise on his forehead. McKenzie testified.

Edward Heppell, 2358 Cadboro Bay Road, told the court that the four accused attempted to enter the dance without purchasing tickets.

He described the struggle in which the constable was involved, and stated that he telephoned for the police patrol.

Thomas English, 1911 Birch Street, corroborated Mr. Heppell's evidence. He said the accused tried to give him the impression that they were helping the constable.

DESCRIBES ARREST

Constable Edwin Sturrock, accompanied by Constable Stephen Dunnell, described the arrest of the four men.

Gilmore, called to the stand by Mr. Henderson, swore that a man named White had arranged to purchase tickets for his party of friends. He started up the stairs at the dance hall and the constable seized his arm. He denied attempting to strike McKenzie and hearing Mr. Heppell call him back to the ticket table. He stated he thought McKenzie was a "uniformed dance attendant, not a policeman."

NICKEL ALLOYS ARE STRONG, TOUGH, DURABLE

A GIANT bucket bites into the ground. A slim axle shoulders tons of earth. A slender derrick tosses steel and stone aloft. A whirling mixer vomits concrete. Under terrific stresses, strains, shocks and abrasion this equipment stands up, for its vital parts are made of Nickel Alloys. Wear and breakage played havoc with construction schedules not so many years ago. To make parts stronger they had to be made heavier.

Then came the age of Alloys, with Canadian Nickel as the chief alloying element. Today engineers measure in advance the strain each part must bear. They specify in advance those Nickel Alloys they know will stand up under the particular conditions. Equipment is lighter and more compact because of the unusual strength of Nickel Alloys, and their increased resistance to wear and corrosion.

And because Nickel Alloys perform better longer, the demand for Nickel in peaceful industry continues to grow. Every Canadian shares in the wealth the Nickel industry brings to Canada.

ARCANUM HEAD VISITS VICTORIA

H. W. Johnson, New York, Supreme Regent, Honored by Victoria Council

Paying his second annual visit to the West Coast as supreme regent of the Royal Arcanum, Herbert W. Johnson, New York, arrived in Victoria yesterday morning, accompanied by Thomas E. Miller, Tacoma, grand regent of the Washington-British Columbia jurisdiction, and W. Peeler, district organizer for the jurisdiction.

In honor of the visit of the supreme regent, the Victoria Majestic Council held a dinner in the Empress Hotel last evening, and later, in the council chamber, a class of candidates was presented for initiation by a special degree team, headed by William Jones, Douglas Flintoff, regent of the Victoria Council, presided over the dinner and the gathering in the council chamber.

DRILL TEAM DISPLAY
The council chamber was especially decorated for the occasion, and several new ideas were incorporated in the initiation ceremony, which was followed by a display by the drill team, in Royal Arcanum movements. Mr. Johnson was re-elected supreme regent for his second year at the sixteenth annual session of the Royal Arcanum, held at Estes Park, Colorado from August 21 to 26. Following the session, the delegates made a tour of Western United States national parks, and from Glacier National Park, Montana, traveled to Spokane, where he was met by Mr. Miller. Together they are engaged on an annual tour of the Washington-British Columbia jurisdiction.

"The Royal Arcanum has had an unusually successful year, showing a 30 per cent gain in membership over last year's figures," the international head said yesterday. The Washington-British Columbia jurisdiction also had just completed a remarkably good year, and the prospect was even better for the current year.

PIONEER SOCIETY
Remarking that the Royal Arcanum was the pioneer of fraternal societies of that character on the continent, having been founded in Boston in 1877, Mr. Johnson stated that the order now held a foremost position in the ranks of all beneficiary fraternities. Operating in every state and province in the Union and Canada, it was practically the only all-male non-sectarian fraternal benefit society on the continent, he said.

Mr. Johnson was formerly assistant chief of the agricultural division of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Washington, D.C., and in that capacity he visited Victoria once a year, during the past six or seven years. It was his policy to travel west through the United States and return by the Canadian Pacific Railway. He will leave Victoria this morning for Seattle, to continue his western inspection tour.

DISTRICT NURSE NAMED
LANDFORD, Sept. 6—Miss Lucille Malkin, R.N., has been appointed nurse for the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Service District.

Reports of Discussion Are Heard

Splendidly comprehensive reports of the biennial meeting of the Canadian Graduate Nurses' Association held in Halifax last July, were given to the (Victoria) Graduate Nurses' Association last night by Miss E. Herbert and Sister Mary Beatrice, the two official Victoria delegates who attended the sessions in the East.

The material was well arranged so that there was practically no overlapping in the reports. Miss Herbert confining her statement principally to the discussions and resolutions; and Sister Mary Beatrice dealing in greater detail with the speakers and personalities, while each added something to the descriptive character of the narrative by incorporating interesting incidents. Of great interest to the nurses from a professional point of view was the summary of proposed legislation affecting nurses.

Mrs. G. Bothwell, president of the local association, was in the chair, and added a word of warm personal appreciation to the two speakers after Miss E. Rose, on behalf of the audience, had proposed a vote of thanks. The meeting took place at the Jubilee Hospital, and was attended by about forty members.

FAREWELL PARTY
Miss Greta Lewis, 620 Seaford Avenue, was hostess to the waitresses of the Empress Hotel, recently, when they entertained at a farewell party in honor of Miss Joan Brigham, who is leaving shortly for her home in Winnipeg. The guests were dressed in children's costumes, prizes being won by Miss V. Robertson as "Shirley Temple," and Mr. Collins as "Tommy Tucker." An interesting item of the evening was a "city scavenger hunt." Later a buffet supper was served and dancing brought the evening to a close. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. Reidwig, Mr. and Mrs. L. West, Mr. and Mrs. F. Wakeham, Mr. and Mrs. R. Shepherd, Misses Joan Brigham, Jean Brogan, Vera Strompkins, Celia Lewis, Lillian Collins, Rosie Holmes, Pat Fagan, Messrs. World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

Just yesterday I pointed out that many so-called bad guesses are, under close analysis, nothing but bad plays. It must not be thought that I maintain there is no such thing as a bad guess. Of course there is. Hundreds of them darken the life of every bridge player. Sometimes there is no possible indication as to which way to finesse. Declarer might as well toss a coin in the air. Usually however, an intimate knowledge of one's opponents and their playing habits serves as an invaluable guide.

West opened the spade ten. East went up with the king and returned the seven spot. Since this located the queen and Jack in declarer's hand, West allowed declarer's jack to hold the second trick, preferring to leave a possible third spade in East's hand for communication purposes. Declarer could count in top cards one spade, two hearts, two diamonds and two clubs, a total of seven tricks. The eighth trick could be established by finding a 2-2 club break and conceding a club trick, and the ninth trick would materialize if declarer could guess which way to finesse hearts. Of course, these possibilities depended on the opponents' running no more than these spade tricks. In an effort to keep West off the lead, since if East had another spade the suit was not dangerous, declarer led a low club toward dummy, intending to put in the eight spot. West's nine "squeaked" the "play" however. "Dumpty" a king was used, a low club was led to the ace, and a third round was conceded to East's queen. East returned a spade, and West collected the ace and nine East and declarer discarding a diamond. West had discarded a low diamond, and now he returned the six of diamonds. Declarer won and cashed his established club, watching carefully for the defenders' discards.

In this letter Miss Hawes had expressed her pleasure in meeting Soroptimists of the American Federation, to which Canada belongs, at Atlantic City, New Jersey, and said that she was sending each club in the Federation a Union Jack which she hoped would "stand side by side with the Star Spangled Banner on the table at every Soroptimist meeting in the United States and Canada."

Miss Atkins reported having had visits from Soroptimists of various parts of the world: Florence Blair, Keighley, Yorks., England; Elizabeth McKaskill, Dundee, Scotland; Jean Betts, Halifax, and Grace Miles, Stockton, Cal., all of whom had brought greetings from their individual organizations.

PROTECTION

For the man with young children, heavy responsibilities and an income scarcely sufficient to meet the many demands upon it, an Imperial Life policy will provide the family protection that will mean peace of mind to him as the breadwinner.

It will insure the necessities of life for his loved ones should anything happen to him. It will also provide a cash fund or income for his own retirement years.

Such a policy provides a savings plan that works, yet calls for deposits much smaller, probably, than you think.

"FINANCIAL SECURITY THROUGH LIFE INSURANCE," by Paul Speicher, an international authority, is an interesting book which should be read by everyone who plans to provide financial security for himself and family. Your local Imperial Life representative will make a copy available to you without cost.

Gandhi Silent to Relieve Pressure

ROMBAY, India, Sept. 6 (CP-Reuters).—Because of erratic blood pressure, Mohandas Gandhi isn't talking these days. His secretary, Mohanlal Desai, said the Nationalist leader had been worrying about a cholera epidemic in the village of Shigam and the loss of three valuable workers from the disease. To relieve the strain, which had affected his blood pressure, Gandhi had decided to observe complete silence for an indefinite period.

CHAPTER II

A few minutes later, several floors below, Suzanne stood at the entrance of the advertisement department, her hands thrust into the pockets of her tailored suit, and looked at the back of Lyle's bent head. When Stephen saw her . . . He would see her and eventually meet her and, because he would be attracted as much by her talent as by her loveliness, he would take her dining and dancing and perhaps invite her to one or two of his parties. All very discreetly, of course. But that would be all. That was all that ever happened with the innumerable girls and women who had come into his life since Suzanne had known him.

And although she had heard much talk about him from the employees as well as from his friends outside the store, she had never asked him why he, young and handsome and successful, had left the store. But Suzanne knew that none of the gossip was true. It was simply that Stephen had never met any one he wanted to marry. He had never met a girl he could not successfully live with.

That night Lyle worked late and worked alone in the deserted office. The figure wasn't "right" and it had to be "right." And at last when the lifted her tired head, satisfied with her work, she realized it was late, that she was very hungry, and that rain was pecking against the windows.

Walking down five flights of steps, glancing at the various departments between flights, she wondered where the people who all day stood and sold and heard complaints and made out sales checks went at night.

And while she was thinking that it was too late to go home to dinner and that this was the night Bonnie and Michael played bridge, she heard footsteps, heavy, hurrying footsteps, coming down behind her.

Always Jeff Conway, one of the young executives, remembered the first time he saw Lyle Marsh. She was wearing a black dress and a black hat and high-heeled black suede pumps. Hearing him, she had stopped on the landing between the first and second floors, and had looked around, a little startled. And in the faint light Jeff Conway saw that her hair was Auburn. He knew he had never seen her before.

Lyle saw him, saw a tall, thin, jointed young man wearing dark clothes and a brown felt hat over dark hair. His thin face still had its Summer tan. Turning away, she continued down the last flight, went out into the steady rain and walked hurriedly down the dark street.

Jeff, who could never resist a new and pretty face, followed the slim dark silhouette two blocks to a cafeteria and arranged to get next to her with a tray.

Then he smiled and spoke. "I'm Jeff Conway. I don't believe I've met you. And," smiling that likeable smile what was to be so well known to her, "I know of scores of other places where we could have dinner together. Soft lights and soft music and wine."

Lyle liked his deep voice and the warmth and gaiety of his dark eyes. "I'm Lyle Marsh."

"Then what about . . . Then some other night? Tomorrow night?"

She did not have time to answer because the line was moving and she had to move with it. And then the waitress, carrying her tray, was depositing the various dishes on the table. Jeff Conway paused and asked, "If we can't do any better than this tonight, Miss Marsh, then may I . . ."

Lyle said, smiling, "Yes, of course I'm delighted."

Jeff thought, "So am I—delighted with you."

He was persistent and curious and amusing. Before long she was answering his questions about work where she lived, about kind of work she did in the store, and to his goal she was working. About him she learned that he was from Boston where his family still lived, that he had his own apartment, and that there were few night places in New York—with which he was not acquainted.

"You haven't answered about tomorrow night," he said. And remembered that he had called Troy Fallon about tomorrow night. Oh, well, he could tell her he was working.

Lyle hesitated. Then, "All right," knowing that Bonnie would disprove, would probably ask, "But is it a good idea to be seen with men from the store?" It probably wasn't, but then it would be fun and she was lonely . . . Because? She wanted to go because it was—Jeff Conway who has asked her, Jeff, who had a gift for laughter and warm black eyes.

And Jeff, lighting a cigarette after Lyle had refused one, was seeing them together tomorrow night and for many nights thereafter. He saw them looking at each other across many restaurant tables and dancing on many polished floors. He saw them together at Stephen's house in Connecticut two week-ends hence. He knew he was going to be in love with her, and he hoped that this love would not pass as quickly as his other loves, his many other loves.

They came out in the rain together and Jeff hailed a taxi.

In the lobby of the apartment house, at the elevator, Lyle turned to him and held out her hand. He took it and held it closely and looked at her soberly.

"If I hadn't decided to clear up this work tonight, this wouldn't have . . . But it would have sooner or later, Lyle. I'm sure of that. Say you're glad."

"I'm glad," he said. "Tomorrow night I'll call for you at seven-thirty. I hope Bonnie and Michael are in. I'd like to meet them. They sound great. Good night."

"Good night, Jeff." Her voice was soft again, not her own voice at all. Yet it was and there was something in it that had never been in it before.

Turning the key, she opened the door, expecting to see Bonnie and Michael at the bridge table with Paul and Jane Harvey. But the living-room was dim and Bonnie was curled up on the green divan with a book.

"No bridge tonight!" Lyle asked. "No, Michael had to work. You, I suppose. Had dinner?"

Lyle nodded and pulled off her hat. "I had dinner with one of the executives of the store, one of the young and not very important executives."

"Bonnie laughed. 'So soon?' Lyle made a wry face. 'But it was at a cafeteria and I paid for it. I insisted on paying.' She sat opposite Bonnie and took a deep breath and told her how she had come to meet Jeff Conway."

"His black eyes are so gay, Bonnie! I know I talked too much about myself, but he made me. He seemed to want to know. He isn't married."

"And you're glad he isn't married? I mean—very glad?"

Lyle looked at her directly. She had never kept anything from Bonnie. With most people, you held back a part of yourself, but you could tell Bonnie anything and always her response was the one you needed.

"Yes, I am. But it's too soon and too sudden to . . ."

"To dream too much," Bonnie supplied, smiling.

Hours later Lyle lay awake, remembering Jeff's smile. She had never been in love and wondered often whether it was because she had never met a man who could be important to her. She thought, "Jeff Conway could be!" And suddenly she was afraid, more afraid than she had ever been in her life. How arrogant and independent you were when no one mattered! Free, you were complete unto yourself. But when one man was important and beloved, you were divided and helpless before the fear of being hurt and the fear of having the gift of yourself, so long held aloof, lightly taken or rejected.

She thought, "Yes, it is too soon and too sudden to dream too much."

The next day passed quickly. When Suzanne Gibson smiled at her on the elevator, Lyle's heart was warm with gratitude. Suzanne thought, "I wonder if Stephen has seen her yet."

Michael was home that night. Lyle stood on the threshold of the room and laughed at small Bonnie and big Michael on their knees on the floor with little Mike between them. There was such a completely happy marriage and theirs had been sudden Three weeks after they met in Baltimore, they had eloped to Elton and Bonnie had forever put aside all thought of a career. And now he cried at it. Lyle thought, "If anything should happen to either Michael or Mike, Bonnie couldn't live. She lives for them."

Michael, big, brown-haired, blue-eyed Michael, grinned at her.

"Bonnie tells me you're mixing business with pleasure tonight. Watch your step. That's the quickest way to lose your job."

"Don't be tiresome, darling," Bonnie said, picking up Mike. "Lyle deserves some fun. She's never had any. Pick up the newspapers and Mike's toys and put on a coat. Because Jeff Conway is coming here tonight."

"Mike began to yell. Bonnie laughed. He doesn't care who's coming. He wants his supper."

Lyle went to her room and took a blue dress and blue turban from the closet. Then a quick, cold shiver, her hand brushed until it showed her mouth, vivid. She could hear Michael and Bonnie laughing in the living-room, laughing no doubt, over something her son had done or something he had tried to say.

After she had dressed, she did not join them. She needed time alone before Jeff came. And again she was afraid! The new confusion in her heart. "But I mustn't be afraid," she thought, standing by the window looking down at the chaotic traffic below. "Bonnie wasn't afraid. But this is so im-

People in love go through a great deal together and you wonder if one or both will be big enough to see it through. You wonder. Falling in love is taking a step in the dark."

The bell rang and she went out. Bonnie's brown eyes said "You look nice." As Lyle crossed the room and opened the door and saw Jeff. With a white box in his hand—flowers for her, of course. Seeing him, seeing that his eyes were as Turner and E. A. Crofton. A large number of friends were present at the service, and many beautiful wreaths and other floral tributes were placed by the graveside.

CRIMINALS BRED IN REFORMATORY

Dominion Feature Pries the Lid Off School System, Said to Be Detrimental

Ripping the lid off the "reform" school system which breeds criminals instead of reforming juvenile lawbreakers, a thrilling new Columbia drama opened yesterday at the Dominion Theatre. The film, "Reformatory," stars Jack Holt in a powerful story which casts some light upon one of America's greatest social problems.

Holt is the warden of a boys' reformatory, inheriting a corrupt, mismanaged institution where tough youngsters rebel because they are served poor food, forced to do heavy manual labor and otherwise treated like adult criminals.

Sylvia Sidney and George Raft Co-Starring as Ex-Convicts in Powerful Drama

Sylvia Sidney and George Raft, last seen together several years ago in Paramount's "Pick Up," are together again in the same studio's powerful film drama, "You and Me." The film, which will open today at the Atlas Theatre, has the background of a large department store owned by a philanthropist who gives jobs to ex-convicts. Raft and Miss Sidney are two of his employees who try to find happiness together, going straight, after serving prison terms.

TAYLOR GAINED RING EXPERIENCE

Matinee Idol Engaged in Many Fights Before Taking Role in "The Crowd Roars"

In a faithful reproduction of Madison Square Garden, covering more than 20,000 square feet of floor space, Robert Taylor fought in succession William Gargan, Mickey McAvoy, New York Irish heavyweight and Patsy Perroni, the first fighter to last ten rounds with the heavyweight champion, Joe Louis.

After five days of workouts at his Northridge ranch with a former light-heavyweight, Johnny Indresano, who had also been training Gargan, Taylor began his fight scenes for "The Crowd Roars," which will open today at the Capitol Theatre.

an all-star cast, Charles Chase, Gullin "Big Boy" Williams and Pert Kelton, provides laughter as fast as one can take it in the Hal Roach-M.G.M. comedy feature, "Kelly the Second," which will show for the last time today at the Columbia Theatre.

OAK BAY Beatrice Lillie, the British comedienne who has been called the "Laugh-Line of Empire," romps with Bing Crosby and Mary Carlisle in "Doctor Rhythm," Paramount's musical comedy, which will show for the last time today at the Oak Bay Theatre.

PLAZA "In Old Vienna" will THEATRE close tonight at the Plaza Theatre. Although the dialogue throughout is in German, English-speaking patrons follow the action with perfect ease through the continuous English translations. The plot, as in many bright and attractive light operas, is slender, but it is a vehicle both of tuneful and catchy musical num-

STRESS WORK AMONG YOUTH

Kiwanis Club Speakers Tell of Avenues of Activity Open to Members

Owing to a disappointment in a speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club yesterday, in the Empress Hotel, D. D. McTavish was called upon to speak of the agricultural work among the youths carried on by the club, and C. Elwood Watkins to give some information regarding the T.B. rehabilitation work which was being done by the committee of the Kiwanis Club.

Mr. McTavish, who is the president of the British Columbia Agricultural Association, outlined the good work being done by the club in connection with the Juniors. He made allusion to the fact that on the Mainland there was considerable attention paid to junior club work. He suggested that this might be looked into more carefully to see just what could be done in this respect.

The 1938 Fair was referred to by the speaker, who read from The Colonist of 1961 respecting the exhibition that was held in Victoria on that date, under the backing of the Hudson's Bay Company.

INTEREST IN SHOW

Everything possible should be done to assist in giving the youth an interest in the agricultural possibilities of the district. He called for the greatest interest in the exhibition to open here on Saturday.

Mr. Watkins briefly reviewed what was being accomplished by the committee having in charge, the T.B. rehabilitation here. He asked members to call and see just what was being done there. The object was to afford the opportunity to persons eligible to enter the home to do certain light work, thus assisting them during the convalescent stages.

Two new members were introduced to the club yesterday by Austin L. Curtis, vice-president of the club. They were Fred W. Francis, formerly a member of Kiwanis, and Thomas Robinson. They were welcomed by Walter M. Walker, lieutenant-governor of the Kiwanis district, and J. G. MacFarlane, president of the local club. The former told of the wonderful scope there was in the club's programme for work among the youth and in other lines.

VICTORIA MEN REPORTED SAFE

Pair Were Marooned on Mountain in Plateau Region During Sudden Storm

Alarm for the safety of two Victoria men, "Tony" Oldfield and Hugh Fletcher, overdue at a forest development project camp in the Courtenay area on Monday, was set at rest by the Provincial Police yesterday, after a search party had found both men unharmed.

On Sunday, Oldfield and Fletcher left the forestry camp to make a one-day exploration of Mount Albert Edward, in the Forbidden Plateau region. They failed to return on Sunday evening, and on Monday a search party was organized and left for the scene. The party found the men, returning unharmed by their adventure.

A sudden storm had retarded their return earlier, the Provincial Police explained. Oldfield and Fletcher left their camp and provisions with Len Rosalter at Marwood Lake, when they set out on Sunday afternoon. Rosalter, when they did not return that night, became alarmed and, being seriously ill, he walked fourteen miles to Forbidden Plateau Lodge to summon aid. Rosalter arrived on Monday night in a state of near-collapse, and, after telling his story, he was taken to hospital, where he was found to be suffering from a ruptured appendix.

Chal Body of Yours

JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

DISEASE CONSIDERED AS A PROTECTION TO THE BODY

During the influenza epidemic, a consulting physician, examining the chart of a young medical officer, sick with pneumonia (following the influenza) shook his head as he pointed to the number of white corpuscles (the disease fighters) present in the blood. As the patient was very ill it was to be expected that the number of these white corpuscles would greatly increase from the normal number of 6,000 to 8,000 per cubic millimetre to perhaps 20,000 or 30,000, whereas there were only about 7,000.

The explanation of the consultant's feeling that there was no hope is that while a rise to 30,000 or 40,000 would show that the illness was very serious, it would show also that the resisting ability of the body was very great in being able to provide this large number of white corpuscles.

Similarly, when there is rapid but strong pulse, increased blood pressure, and a rise in temperature, it is direct evidence that there is infection or other trouble in the body, but just as direct evidence that the body is putting up a fight against the infection or other trouble.

Thus, Dr. F. M. Postenger, in "Endocrinology: Science of the ductless glands—thyroid, pituitary and others" states: "It would seem to

Blind to Exhibit Products at Fair

An interesting display is being planned at the stall of the Institute for the Blind in the Industrial Building at the Willows Exhibition. During the first three days there will be an exhibit of flowers and vegetables, grown by sightless persons in Victoria, who have found gardening an interesting and healthful hobby.

There will also be cakes, bread and cookies baked by housewives, who have lost their sight, and are carrying on their home duties in spite of this handicap. Members of the W.I.A. to the Institute for the Blind are arranging this exhibit and are offering prizes for the best collection of cut flowers, best collection of vegetables, best marrows grown from special seed donated by the auxiliary, and boards grown from special seed, also donated by this society. Prizes will be awarded for the best samples of cooking as mentioned above.

This competition is open to any person registered with the Institute for the Blind.

At school for the first time the small boy started to sob bitterly.

"What's the matter, Willie," asked the teacher.

"Please, Miss, I don't like school and I've got to stay here till I'm fourteen."

"Don't worry about that," said the teacher. "Look at me. I've to stay here till I'm sixty-five!"

Curt Davis Blanks Cincinnati Squad; Giants Score Win

St. Louis Cardinals' Pitcher Chalks Up 8-0 Victory Over Second-Place Club—New York Rallies To Nose Out Boston in Tenth—Cleveland Indians Trim Detroit Tigers, 6-0

The New York Giants battled up all the way yesterday to take a ten-inning 6-5 decision over the Boston Bees, with Mel Ott, Joe Moore and Alex Kampouris cast in the heroic roles.

The Bees, picking up a run each in the second and fourth off Hal Schumacher, held a 2-0 lead going into the last of the seventh. Kampouris cut that in half with a homer against the left field upper deck, and Moore made it two—all an inning later with another four-bagger.

With Dick Coffman on the mound for New York, the Bees pushed over three runs in the first of the tenth on two singles, a sacrifice, a wild pitch and two errors. But that was when the Giants really began to fight. With one out, George Myatt drew a pass. Harry Dammann's fourth hit sent him to second, and Ott then tied the score with his thirty-third home run of the season.

Bob Seeds, a pinch-hitter, walked; Johnny McCarthy singled; Hitchcock's error on Bill Cossell's grounder filled the bases, and Kampouris drove home Seeds with the winning run as he slugged a single off Stripp's glove.

REDS ARE BLANKED
Curt Davis pitched five-hit shut-out ball while his St. Louis makes were hammering out seven runs to defeat Cincinnati, 8-0, and stretch the gap between the Reds and the Pittsburgh Pirates to four and one-half games.

Ray Davis held the gashouse gang to one hit through the first three frames, but was touched for runs in the fourth and fifth frames and gave up thirteen safeties before he was replaced by Johnny Vander Meer two-thirds of the way through the eighth, after three more Cards had tallied.

Vito Tamula, strummy Dodger southpaw, settled down after a bad start to pitch Brooklyn to a 6-4 victory over the Phillies, who were shut out with three hits through the last eight innings.

Monty Stratton, making his first start since he twisted his ankle almost two weeks ago, allowed eight scattered hits as he pitched the Chicago White Sox to an 8-2 triumph over the St. Louis Browns. It was his fourteenth win of the season.

The Washington Senators unveiled a new pitcher prospect, twenty-two-year-old Rene Monie, and he hurled them to a 7-5 triumph over the Boston Red Sox. Montague, a stubby Cuban up from Trenton, of the Eastern League, was nicknamed for fourteen hits, but proved effective in the pinches. He fanned Jimmy Fox with the bases loaded in the eighth and struck out nine altogether. Fox previously had hit his fortieth home run.

Bobby Feller's four-hit pitching performance stretched Cleveland's winning streak to eight games as the Indians blanked the Detroit Tigers 6-0 in the first of a two-game series here.

Feller drove two Cleveland runs across the plate with a pair of singles. He struck out six Tigers and walked five. Only one Detroit runner reached third base.

Apostoli Scores Quick Knockout In Southern Ring

SAN JOSE, Cal., Sept. 6 (AP).—Fred Apostoli, San Francisco middleweight, returned to the ring here tonight after a six-months' layoff, to score a two-round knockout over Mike Payan, San Diego Indian.

Apostoli, "uncrowned" midweight champion, appeared none the worse for his long stay on the shelf because of an appendix operation. After feeling himself out in the first round, Apostoli came out swinging in the second, and sent Payan to the canvas three times. The Indian took counts of nine twice, and the third time was counted out on one knee. He arose right after the count of ten to argue with Referee Jack Downey that he was in a condition to continue, but his appeal was too late.

Both Apostoli and Payan weighed in at 160½ pounds.

HORSE RACING TO OPEN HERE ON SATURDAY

Washington Day Handicap Will Be Feature Event For Opening Day

They're off! That familiar cry, sweet music to the ears of racing followers, will resound Saturday at the Willows track as the thoroughbreds leave the starting gates for the opening of British Columbia's final race meeting of the season.

With the closing of the Mainland racing on Labor Day, owners started shipping to Victoria yesterday and the first contingent of more than fifty thoroughbreds is safely stabled at the Willows. Shipping will continue daily, and when the opening day arrives more than 250 bang-balls will be here for action.

Leading sprinters and distance runners who have been turning in big performances at Lansdowne, Brighouse and Hastings Park tracks will be here for the meeting and followers of the "sport of kings" should witness many thrilling events. With plenty of horses available and the accommodation at the Willows being taxed to capacity, large fields will be assured for all events.

TRACK RESURFACED
W. H. Merritt, secretary of the British Columbia Agricultural Association, announced last night that everything is in readiness for the opening. The half-mile track has been resurfaced and covered with screened soil and will be in excellent condition for the meet.

Saturday will be "Washington Day" at the exhibition and the race track, and the feature event on the racing programme will be the Washington Day Handicap. Special excursions to Victoria from Port Angeles, Port Townsend and Sequim have been arranged, and many visitors from the American cities will be here for the big day. The boat will be held until 7:30 o'clock in the evening in order to accommodate the visitors.

Racing officials will arrive in the city tomorrow to make final preparations for the meeting starting on Monday, September 26.

TENTATIVE DATE IS SET FOR APPEARANCE OF U.S. OPEN WINNER

Officials of Victoria Golf Club State That One of The World's Greatest Shotmakers Is Expected To Perform at Oak Bay Links Next Week—To Commence Northwest Tour

One of golfdom's outstanding clubwinners, Ralph Guldahl, who lifted his second United States open championship on the Cherry Hills course in Denver just two months ago, is expected to perform here next Tuesday afternoon at the Oak Bay links, officials of the Victoria Golf Club announced yesterday.

Although the date is on the tentative list just at the present, one director of the Victoria Club stated that the famous shotmaker is practically a "clinch" to play here, with the match scheduled to commence about 2 o'clock.

The master stylist has been booked throughout the Northwest by A. A. "Bob" Littler, of Seattle, who is in charge of the exhibition. On Thursday of this week, Guldahl will play at the Seattle Golf Club with Bill Zouger, professional at the club, against Gordon Richards, Broadmoor Club, and Chuck Condon, Tacoma. On Saturday, the open champion moves on to Spokane and the following day he will display his shotmaking ability to the golfing fraternity of Portland. His next stop is set for Victoria on Tuesday and he will head for the Point Grey Club in Vancouver on Wednesday.

PLAYED HERE BEFORE
Victorians who attended the $3,000 open tournament at the Oak Bay links in 1936 remember Guldahl well for he came here with the Western open crown dangling from his belt. The Dallas professional, who is only twenty-six now, has improved 100 per cent since his first invasion of the Northwest. He left here after failing to get into the money and finished in a tie for top money in the $5,000 open in Seattle with MacDonald Smith. In the play-off the veteran Carnoustie Scot blazed his way to a sensational 65, six strokes better than Guldahl's two-under-par round of 71.

In 1937 Guldahl justified for hours at a time and his efforts were rewarded when he raced home in front of the field in the United States open championship with a record-breaking seventy-two hole score of 281. He also repeated in the Western open that year and then the big Texas sharpshooter came through with his second successive open triumph this year at Denver and followed it up with a third straight win in the Western open to hang up another record for the boys to shoot at.

Final arrangements for the match here should be completed either today or tomorrow, club officials stated. It was also learned that Guldahl will probably be playing with Jimmy Todd, ace of the city amateurs, who won his fifth straight championship on Labor Day at Oak Bay. Phil Taylor, professional at the Victoria Club, and Joe Pryke, salaried expert at the Colwood Club.

MISSED A TIE
Guldahl first reached golf prominence back in 1931 when he missed a four-foot putt on the last green for a tie with Johnny Goodman, Ojibwa amateur, in the United States national open tournament. After this meet the Texan quit the game for several years and went out on the road as an auto salesman. However, he was enticed back into competitive golf and after sharpening up his game to a fine point, went back into the golf wars to achieve some of the greatest success in the history of the Royal and Ancient.

PANORAMA WINS CHAMPAGNE RACE

DONCASTER, England, Sept. 6 (AP).—Mrs. J. Corrigan's Panorama, a chestnut colt by Sir Cosmo-Happy Climax, today won the Champagne Stakes here. Mrs. D. Thomas' Apple Ring was second, and Titan owned by Lord Rosebery, was third.

Seven two-year-olds ran for the purse of 1,000 sovereigns added to the stakes. Panorama, odds-on favorite at 8 to 13, was a head in front of Apple Ring held at 5 to 1. Titan, starting at 100 to 1, was two lengths behind.

JAKE SANGSTER IS ELIMINATED

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 6 (AP).—The victor in the first round of the Victoria Golf Club tournament at Jasper Park.

JASPER PARK, Alta., Sept. 6 (AP).—Both the medalist and runner-up in the Totem Pole qualifying round on Monday fared badly this morning when match play was opened. S. P. Powell, Bermuda, who scored the lowest qualifying round, 72, in the history of the tournament, was eliminated from the championship by Carl Havens, Seattle, one up.

J. W. Sangster, Victoria, runner-up yesterday, fell before the steady stroking of the veteran E. N. Kennedy, who finished the last few holes in par golf to win.

The weather man showed a temporary frown this morning, and a night of rain left the course heavy. Other results in the championship were: Dr. Nelson, Minneapolis, defeated C. L. Willis, Seattle; Dr. Spedden, Seattle, defeated W. J. Allan, Chilliwack; Jack Wagner, Saskatoon, defeated E. Mayon, Vancouver; W. R. Cumming defeated H. Keough, Saskatoon; C. S. Great Britain to Face U.S. Team in Curtis Cup Series

Biennial Battle for Women's Golf Trophy Will Commence Today in Eastern States—Three Fourball Matches Scheduled—Americans Are Defending the Silverware

MANCHESTER, Mass. Sept. 6 (AP).—Their practice rounds over and everyone keyed up for play, women golf stars from Great Britain and the United States will begin tomorrow a closely-matched, biennial battle for the Curtis Cup.

It will be the fourth time the British ladies have attempted to gain possession of the prized bowl, donated by Misses Margaret and Harriette Curtis, of the Essex County Club here. Although the Americans are slight favorites to retain the cup, the British have turned in five practice scores and are promising a stiff fight.

The cup committee today gave the opening nod to Mrs. Andrew M. Holm, of Scotland, the British women's champion, who never has been beaten in Curtis Cup play, and Miss Charlie, Therman, Irish star, who, at twenty-one, is the youngest member of the British squad. They will tee off at 1 p.m. (Eastern standard time) against two United States veterans, Mrs. Julia A. Estelle Lawson, Page, Jr., national champion, and Maureen Orcutt.

Following those four in the Scotch foursomes will be Miss Jessie Anderson, Scottish player, who sank a curling putt to tie the United States in the last Curtis Cup match at Glenasmole, in 1936, and Miss Edie Corlett, of England. Miss Anderson and Miss Corlett will battle Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, former national champion, and the youthful star from Minneapolis, Patty Berg.

The third foursome will pit Mrs. J. B. Walker, of Ireland, and Miss Phyllis Wade, former English champion, against Miss Marion Miley and Miss Kathryn Hemphill.

Singles matches on Thursday will conclude the battle.

The United States won the first two matches, in 1932 and 1934, and kept the cup in 1936 by the tie.

CLOSING SCORES IN O.C. CRICKET

LONDON, Sept. 6 (AP).—Coming from behind, Sussex defeated Gloucestershire by seven wickets in the closing match of the English county competition today. Neither of the teams were among the leaders in the championship race, Yorkshire having clinched the title for the twentieth time some days ago.

Gloucestershire took four points for leading on the first innings and finishing the season in tenth place, and the winning eleven ended its schedule in eighth position.

The Yorkshire-MCC and Sir Pelham Warner's XI-Australia contests were drawn, rain interfering with the final day's play in the former match.

The scores: Gloucestershire, 488 and 156 for five wickets declared; Sussex, 341 and 306 for three (H. Parks 119). MCC, 345 and 132 and for four declared; Yorkshire, 221 and 222 for two (Hutton 106 not out).

Australians, 390 and 327 for seven declared; Sir Pelham Warner's XI, 223 and 38 for no wickets.

Victoria Dog Is Mainland Winner

VANCOUVER, Sept. 6 (AP).—Am. Ch. Cornhill Goldie V. Dachshund, a smooth-haired dachshund female owned by Mrs. Miriam Van Court, of South Pasadena, Calif., was named best in show at the Canada Pacific Exhibition's Labor Day dog show here.

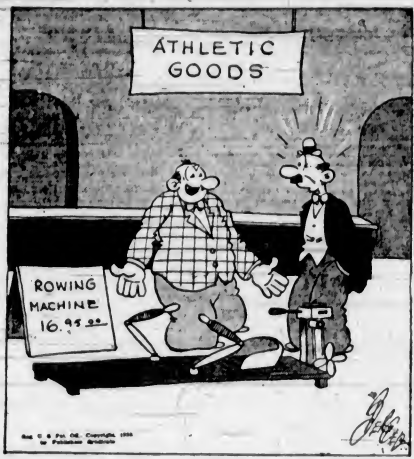

She also captured first place in the hound group and the dachshund contest.

The ribbon for the reserve best in show went to Am. Ch. Second In-statement, a smooth-haired fox terrier, owned by Mrs. Spencer Waters, of Victoria.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT By Fred Neher

"Let's Go . . . It's the First One You Tried On, That's Where We Came In."

What Today Means*"VIRGO"

If September 7 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:15 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.; from 2:15 to 4:15 p.m., and from 6:15 to 8:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:15 to 10:15 a.m.; from 4:15 to 6:15 p.m., and from 8:15 to 10:15 p.m.

It might compensate you in many ways to lend a helping hand this day whenever the opportunity arises. The spirit of unselfishness, your close associates in both home and office. Express any inclination you might have to cast dignity to the four winds, particularly if you participate in some social activity. On this day it is most important that you command the respect of others, as well as maintain your own self-respect. Tempers are apt to be easily lost, so it will be unwise to subject anyone's temper to a test. Any desire to take things easy, or to do them leisurely, should be repressed, for it might irritate anyone watching your movements. Efficiency must be employed in every line of activity this day if satisfactory results are to be achieved. Married and engaged couples, and those whose matrimonial plans are still in the debatable stage, must let their words and deeds give evidence of their thoughtfulness. This would be a day when the actions of those near and dear to them will reflect contentment.

If a woman and September 7 is your birthday, you ought to think along conservative lines and avoid giving evidence of possessing extremely radical ideas. Any type of pioneering work has, probably, a strong appeal to you. You ought to have a gift for expressing yourself well both orally and in writing. Some of your most ambitious day-dreams are likely to be realized, after you have given up hope of their ever

"GIFT OF GAB" It is anybody's privilege to use the more elegant "facility of expression" for gift of gab; but the latter is quite alright and does not deserve the tag "colloquial."

"Gab" is a good and old Icelandic word; in its original form it was gab and it meant "mockery."

When gab passed into the English language it dropped the "f" and added many meanings, first that of "mouth," hence "idle chatter" and finally "loquaciousness."

"Gab" has many familiar kith and kin including "gabble," "jabber" and "gibberish," all of which represent different shades and variations of the root word.

MORE ENTRIES THAN IN 1937

Fair Officials Report Total of 18,000—Exhibition to Open Saturday

Close to 18,000 entries have been received for the seventy-seventh annual exhibition of the British Columbia Agricultural Association, to be held at the Willows starting next Saturday. It was announced yesterday by W. H. Hanna, secretary of the Fair Association. This surpasses last year's entries by a little less than 1,000.

With the official opening only a few days off, the buildings echo the din of carpenters' hammers as merchants erect their stalls and displays. Perhaps the most unique display in the fair this year will be that entered by Alec A. Molesworth, who has constructed a model of several blocks of Victoria's downtown area. Everything is to scale. Office buildings, small stores, cluster lights, traffic signals, pedestrians on the street, parked cars, and moving models of automobiles, trucks and street cars have all been included in this animated exhibit. The exhibit is in such detail that there are even miniatures of billboards in exact replica, and "at-in" natural colors.

Another outstanding exhibit will be that entered by the Dominion Experimental Farm. Their exhibit is the largest that has ever been entered by the Dominion Government, and will depict many interesting phases of the work carried out by the experimental station.

COMMERCIAL DISPLAYS

Mr. Mearns stated that every square foot of exhibit space has been sold out, and that there will be many interesting commercial displays. Those who have taken exhibit space in the various buildings are as follows: Victoria Bed & Mattress Co.; Miss R. Stubbard, photographer; A. Molesworth, Fred Christmas, Dominion Government; Mary Croft Chapter, I.O.D.E.; B.C. Electric Railway Co., Ltd.; C. J. McDowell, Registered Jersey Dairies, International Correspondence School, Shiner Roofing & Paper Co., Ltd.; Bepco Paint Co., V.M.C.A.; Red Cross Workshop, Old English Beverage Co., Ltd.; Scott & Peden, Hudson's Bay Company, T. A. Breton, V.I. Plating Co., Diggon-Hibben, Ltd.; Vancouver Island Hardwood Floor Co., Imperial Oil Co., Utilities Agency, C.P.C.T. & Co., broadcasting, General Paint Corporation of Canada, George Willis, H. J. Berke, Mr. Wyle, Victoria Women's Institute, Daughters of England, T.V. Victoria Women's Auxiliary, Wood & Corbett, Canadian Daughters League, No. 30; Equimall Subdivision, Catholic Women's League, Mrs. Horton, W. R. Norrington, Equimall Community Club, Mr. Stewart, Canadian Mercantile Co., Beatty Washing Machine, Ltd., John Christie, and Junior W.A. Junior Hospital.

CAMERA MEN ARRIVES

It was also announced by Mr. Mearns that William Beckway, Hollywood cameraman, had arrived to photograph the screen and sound tests that will be held in conjunction with the fair.

Judging will start Saturday morning, and the official opening will take place at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with Premier T. D. Pattullo officiating.
